

ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY

Protecting our shared environment is of fundamental importance to Orwell Offshore as it is to our management, employees, clients and other stakeholders.

Orwell Offshore is committed to providing its services in a manner which ensures that protecting the environment is regarded as equal to our business objectives.

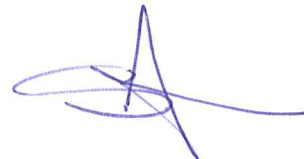

In order to achieve the Company's objectives we will;

- Recognise the environment as a management responsibility
- Comply with all applicable environmental regulatory and legislative requirements
- Maintain environmental policies and standards to identify and prioritise the principal environmental risks and their right measures
- Investigate and report environmental incidents to ensure that appropriate corrective actions are taken to prevent the recurrence of similar incidents
- Provide adequate resources and training to all Orwell Offshore personnel to ensure a clear understanding of our impact on the environment and our responsibilities
- Encourage personnel to contribute to the continual improvement of the Environment
- Periodically review our environmental policy against pre-determined goals and targets to ensure continual improvement
- Monitor the performance of our personnel and sub-contractors against company environmental standards
- Raise the environmental awareness of our contractors and suppliers to ensure their commitment to the environment is equal to that of Orwell Offshore and that they conform to similar standards

Orwell Offshore makes every effort to ensure that environmental accountability is an integral part of our performance. To this end, we measure and periodically report on our progress in realising these commitments.

Mark Evans
Managing Director
November 2020

Steve Adams-Blyth
QHSE Manager
November 2020

